THOMAS J. PAPPAS SCHOOL IN TEMPE OPENS ITS DOORS TO CHILDREN OF HOMELESS FAMILIES

Thomas J. Pappas Elementary School in Tempe, a part of the Maricopa County Regional School District, will offer homeless children the choice of an education and the chance to be a child. The school supports grades K-6 and offers a safe and secure climate for the students. Pappas will address the needs of the children by providing nutritionally balanced meals, certified teachers, a certified counselor, outreach to social services and medical services. Even though Pappas is a public school, it does not receive money from bonds, budget overrides, or local property taxes. In order to provide the extra services to the children and their families, support is gathered from the community. Tempe is proud to embrace and support our new school! To volunteer or make a donation, please contact Joy Story-Perkins at (480) 557-6211.

Chase Bank and Bright Horizons is partnering with Pappas to create a "Bright Space." Bright Horizons with monetary support from Chase will decorate one room and fill it with educational toys, games, furniture, and other items for the children to play with while their parents are receiving services. Look for that special opening soon.
